Principal's Message
The Year 1975-1976

To the Class of '76

During the course of the past four years, your experiences at Holy Cross have been numerous and various. Each of you has achieved new insights about yourself, others, society and God. Hopefully you are able to grasp a fraction of the wisdom contained in the following utterance of the philosopher Aristotle: "The unexamined life is not worth living."

In the days, months and years ahead, when you think about the value of life and your experiences, you will be reflecting the full worth of your Holy Cross education. Your parents sacrificed some things in order to provide you the advantage of a Catholic education in the hope that you would be better able to examine life with a Christian perspective and to seek to solve life's problems with the added insights gained from a value centered education. In addition to all the courses which you have taken, the real worth of your four years at Holy Cross will be seen in your commitment to question the quality of your life in light of your life in Christ. Your ultimate success in life will be judged solely in terms of your response to Him. In order for this response to be real and valuable you have to consciously examine your life and be willing to make the needed changes.

Your generation faces some real challenges. As you move ahead in this age of speed, efficiency and technological progress, you will be facing new challenges of safeguarding the dignity of the human person. Our hope for you is that you will work to maintain the balance — the integration, between our society's concern for efficiency and the more important Christian concern for examining the quality of the life we live. Your education has helped to prepare you to meet these various challenges but you must realize that the preparation is developmental — it is ongoing and it must continue. Our final hope for you is that you will always seek the truth and live the "examined life."

SHELTER ISLAND RETREAT

Each year students at Holy Cross are encouraged to put aside a few days away from school and from everyday life to participate in a vital spiritual experience that is most effective for their young life in the teenage world. Under the dynamic direction of Brother Robert Brown, C.S.C., Shelter Island has become a landmark on the map of Long Island for the Holy Cross Student. It is here that the students experience Christ in many different ways; and they come back from Shelter Island to share the Light of Christ with their friends, family, and the world that is a part of their daily life.

This year over four hundred Holy Cross men have come back from Shelter Island with such joy of spirit, peace of mind and an enthusiam for the things which Christ has given them, that hundreds of other students have taken up the challenge to make the retreat on their words alone.

All the hang-ups and the problems that are a part of life — the teenage life in particular — are dealt with by the Passionist Fathers at Shelter Island. It is an experience and a great challenge to set aside a weekend of your own to look into the higher things in life, to see the real meaning of life and to look into yourself, putting things in order to start a new leaf on life.

When the bell tolls
God invites us to come and share his truth

The Peer Counseling Program at Holy Cross was instituted about six years ago, by Brother Carl Winters, C.S.C., and is one of the first of its kind in this state. Its purpose is to enlist the aid of the upperclassmen in the acclimation of the freshman to the school. Each upperclassmen is given the responsibility of nine or ten freshmen. He meets with them, answers questions and in general attempts to make the transition from grammar school to high school a little bit easier. Frequently, Freshmen seek the aid of those with more knowledge and experience than themselves. However that does not diminish the need for maturity. For what is maturity but the realization that one is not the possessor of all knowledge?

No grades are given to Peer Counselors. Awards are not given for outstanding service. One must find the motivation and spirit within himself and must then convince the freshman that he is worthy of his trust. It is not easy to break the ice. However, the feeling of satisfaction and worth makes the effort meaningful and worthwhile. Students grow in many ways during their high school years. But all too often they grow apart. Peer Counseling helps them to grow together, and isn't that what Education is all about?

THE 1976 CROSS

The eighteenth annual CROSS has been presented to the student body and faculty through the diligent efforts of editor-in-chief Henry Brewer, co-editor Thomas Orlando, and assistant-editor Kevin Conlon; also, the moderator Brother Robert Brown, C.S.C., who supervised and presided over the hard working staff: Phil Orlando, John Zazloff and Robert Klein. With a great sense of accomplishment we hope and trust that you will enjoy this volume.

First, we would like to give special thanks to Brother John McGovern, C.S.C., and to the Holy Cross Photo Club, but especially to the Photo Editors, Paul Kampa and Miguel Hernandez, as well as to Eric Benvenuti, John Coffey, Philip Paspa and Joseph Daly who have devoted many strenuous hours after school to develop the many pictures for this yearbook's deadline. A special vote of thanks to all those who in one way or another have contributed in some way, however small, to the success of this publication. Many thanks to Mr. Norman Kerker of Delma Studios. The books fine art work was done by Mr. Frank Jahn, a commercial artist, and a personal friend of Brother Robert Brown, a man devoted to all the ideals of Holy Cross High School.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE.

Friends:

In the past, it has been customary for each departing editor of the yearbook to write in his own words, a farewell message to the graduating class. Yielding to tradition, I shall now set forth for you, a resume: an outlined review of our four year tenure here at Holy Cross; noting the benefits, less-positive experiences, purpose and function of the education we have received.

Cross has provided us with a substantial Christian background, which has served as a basis and foundation for the many experiences we have shared in and participated in while here. Intellectual opportunites and assets abound. Besides receiving an excellent preparation for college, vast numbers of Seniors have already been awarded aid in the forms of scholarships and grants, to help with the financing of a college education. In addition we have achieved an awareness of the various avenues of thought and knowledge which have existed down through the ages. In effect, we have achieved an expansion of knowledge and intelligence. On the other hand, there has been a physical and athletic counterpart to our education, which has complemented the intellectual. No, not through the physical education classes, although they are important in and of themselves; but for those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity, the extracurricular sports, the intramurals and the organized teams, which provide an excellent chance for the development of individual talents and skills: dexterity, acumen and individual athletic ability. And for those who have shown exception and promise, athletic scholarships have been won. Finally, a word about the chance we have been given to further ourselves emotionally, spiritually and socially. By our encounters with the lay Faculty, Priests and Brothers, as well as with one another, we have become sensitive and perceptive to our own needs and to the needs of those around us; and of what it means to be human. We are now more fully conscious of the purpose and destiny of man, true happiness. The strength of the extracurricular activities, clubs, societies, and publications; as well as the social events and functions held here, lies in the fact that they afford the student with valuable educational experiences which go far beyond the limitations and boundaries of the classroom.

However, time alone shall tell us whether the aforementioned attributes have had any profound effect upon our lives when and if these benefits grow to fruition. And then to briefly look back upon a most tragic experience shared by the class of 1976, the untimely death of Leo Adduci, which left its indelible mark upon all who knew him.

As we close this final year, although we realize that we shall miss this fine school, we also realize that we have become a part of Holy Cross. Our career here has been a success, and it is my sincerest hope that this success shall carry over to all our future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Henry Brewer

For the arts, when taught in the terms of their unique powers, are as necessary and as natural to education as mathematics, science, history, or literature.

Practically every example of the performing arts, when well presented, offers an opportunity to learn, provided that the spectator is properly prepared. The Fine Arts Club provides books, articles, and necessary materials to help make the performance come even more alive.

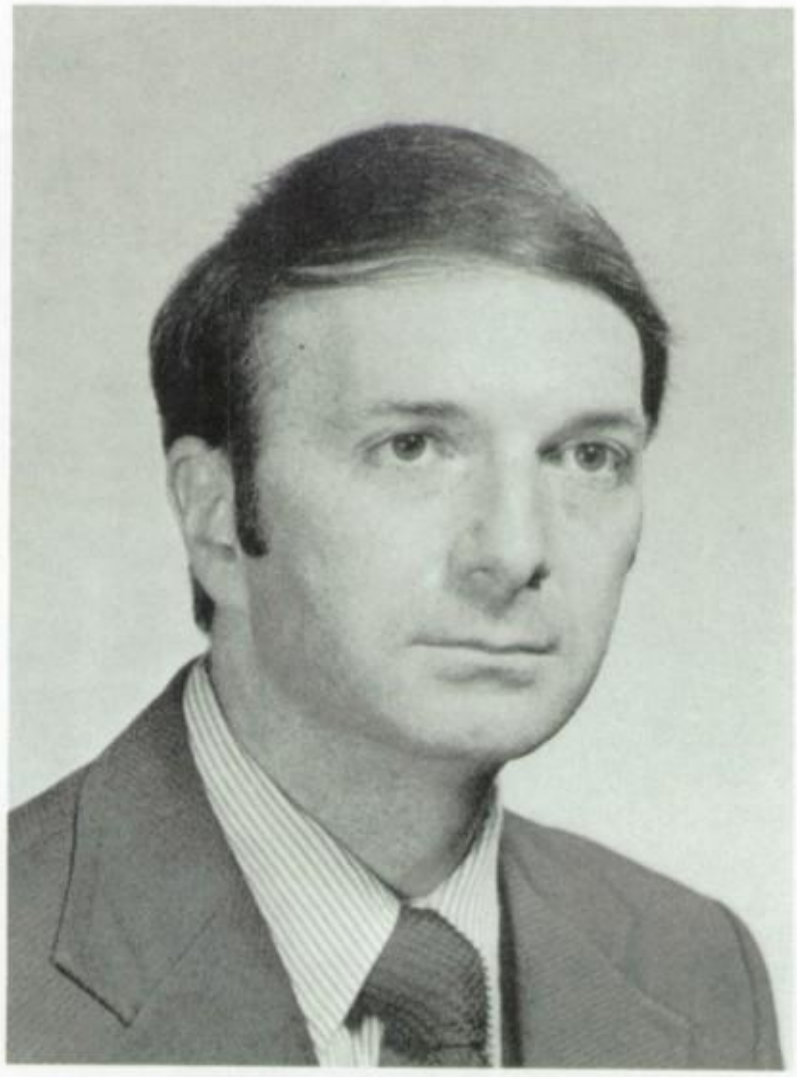
The Photo Club



Brother Ralph Simonetti, C.S.C.
Moderator

Perhaps the most important, yet unappreciated and unrecognized organization of this school is the Holy Cross Photography Club. Guided by its moderator, Brother Ralph Simonetti, C.S.C., this club is responsible for the pictures which appear in both the CROSS yearbook, and the LANCE newspaper.

Officers Paul Kampa the president, Eric Benvenuti the vice-president, Miguel Hernandez treasurer, Thomas Orlando secretary, and John Coffey librarian, who compose the foundation of the club, unselfishly teach the art and basics of photography to the many other interested students in the school.

It is the leadership and the dedication of the students which has enabled the Photo Club to attain the degree of success it has achieved in its endeavors and undertakings. The fine quality of the photography clearly attests to that.

The Forensics Society has as its goal the development of a confident, articulate speaker. The fifteen members of this group look to Mr. Richard Hogan, their moderator, for leadership and direction. Consisting mostly of upperclassmen, this school organization continues to look promising in the immediate future.

Student leadership is supplied by John Cocchiaro, President of the club, who is a three-time National qualifier. John also qualified for the State finals last year. Other key members of the organization include K. Warren Strachan, who placed fifth in the nation in Declamation last year; Paul Nittoli, a National and State qualifier; Phil Orlando, a State qualifier; Tom Messana, Michael Pergolizzi, Donald Kiley, Richard Ryan, Matthew Murphy, and Douglas Hall. A welcomed addition to the team is Freshman Michael Manning, who took third place in Declamation in a contest earlier this year.

Although lacking in superstars, the Holy Cross Forensics Society continues to be the strong team it has been in past years.
